SYSTEMS & INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Moving Programs from Concept to Delivery

The Systems and Information Technology (S&IT) business line provides a wide range of services supporting engineering, cyber operations, instruction, training, integration, mission assurance, healthcare support, and readiness throughout the entire life cycle of military programs.

Our dedicated S&IT team is experienced in executing, managing, and supervising activities that include system development, production, deployment, sustainment, and disposal; while ensuring operational effectiveness, suitability, survivability, safety, and cost efficiency.
